

Maria Rosaria Carratù, born in Taranto, Italy, on february 20, 1951. Graduated in Medicine and Surgery, and postgraduated in Clinical Pharmacology. Professional affiliation: Medical Association. Present academic position: Full Professor of Pharmacology (School of Medicine, "Aldo Moro" University of Bari), and chairman of the Department of Biomedical Sciences and Human Oncology. She authored several peer-reviewed articles in the field of cellular and molecular pharmacology and toxicology. She can boasts scientific training in prestigious research labs in France (Laboratoire de Neurobiologie, Ecole Normale Supérieure, Université Paris VII; Laboratoire de Physiologie Cellulaire, Université Paris XI, Orsay; Laboratoire de Toxicologie et d'Hygiène Appliquée, Université Bordeaux II), and in Germany (Physiologisches Institut Universität Krankenhaus Eppendorf, Hamburg). Her scientific interest is mainly focused on the characterization of molecular targets for novel neuroprotective drugs and anticancer agents. She was member of the Executive Committee of Italian Society of Toxicology (1996-2003), and Temporary Advisor of WHO. Directorship: Department of Biomedical Sciences and Human Oncology, School of Medicine, University of Bari (2018-2021), Department of Pharmacology and Human Physiology, School of Medicine, University of Bari (2008-2011). She also served as supervisor of Doctoral School in Clinical Pharmacology and Medical Therapy, and Biomedical Sciences and Technologies. Editorship activity: Open Access Journal of Toxicology, Journal of Pharmacology & Clinical Research, Madridge Journal of Cancer Study & Research, Madridge Journal of Oncogenesis (MJO). She serves as Review Editor in Translational Pharmacology (Frontiers in Pharmacology), Eminent Editor for Advances in Clinical Toxicology (ACT), and reviewer for international Journals in the field of neuroscience and neurotoxicology. She is listed in the expert panel for the evaluation of research projects financed by the Ministry of University.