Rosa Lanzilotti is currently Associate Professor of Human-Computer Interaction (HCI) at the Computer Science Department of the University of Bari Aldo Moro (UNIBA). In May 2006 she got the PhD in Computer Science from UNIBA in Human-Computer Interaction. Since April 2002, she worked at the Computer Science Department of UNIBA, first as research fellow, next as Assistant Professor and as Associate Professor since 2015.

She is founding member of the IVU (Interaction, Visualization, Usability & UX) Lab of the UNIBA, where she coordinates research on Usability Engineering, UX and Human-Centered AI (HCAI). She is member of the GLU-X (Gruppo di Lavoro per l'Usabilità e UX), a working group set up by the Italian Ministry of Public Administration, which aims at developing a culture of usability and UX in the Italian public administration. She is also member of ACM (Association of Computing Machinery), IFIP TC13 - Human-Computer Interaction, WG 13.2 - Methodologies for User-Centered Systems Design, and SIGCHI Italy, the Italian Chapter of ACM SIGCHI.

She is co-author of more than 90 papers published in journals, international conferences and collections.

Rosa Lanzilotti is/has been member of the scientific organization committee of International Conferences and Workshops. In particular, she is Technical Program Co-Chair of the 18th IFIP TC.13 International Conference on Human-Computer Interaction INTERACT 2021. She was Workshop Co-Chair of IEEE SMC 2019; Paper Co-Chair of AVI 2016; Proceedings Chair of AVI 2014; Publicity Co-Chair of IS-EUD 2011; Demo Co-Chair of ICD 2009.

Rosa Lanzilotti is Associate Editor of International Journal of Human-Computer Studies, and reviewer of Behaviour & Information Technology, Multimedia Tools and Applications, Journal of System and Software Studies (Elsevier Inc.).

She served in the Program Committee of several International Conferences and Workshops, including:

INTERACT, CHI, ENASE, AVI, IDC.

She is the scientific coordinator of the UNIBA research unit in the projects eGLU-Box Pro (2020-2021), eGLUBox PA (2017-2018) and PA++ (2015-2016), funded by the Italian Ministry of Economic Development.

She was involved in international projects. She has been involved in several other project, some sponsored by Italian Ministry of University and Research and some by Apulia Region.